

Rufiji TIMO Team - Ndengereko

Training In Ministry Outreach (TIMO) is an AIM initiative designed to equip men and women with the experience they need to serve as long-term outreach missionaries. As a member of this two-year TIMO team, you and your teammates will serve to share the gospel among the unreached Ndengereko people and to mobilize local Christians to reach their Ndengereko neighbors. Under the leadership of an experienced missionary couple, you'll work to learn language and gain a deeper understanding of Ndengereko culture.

Through the TIMO curriculum, team meetings, and one-on-one weekly mentorship meetings, you'll be trained in how to effectively share the gospel and reach your Ndengereko neighbors through relational outreach.

"A learner's attitude, humility, patience, and flexibility are essential to joining this team," our field leadership writes. "When you arrive, you will be humbled. You will struggle to communicate, you will at times look foolish, and language learning can be challenging. Patience and endurance will be your friend."
