

AFRICA INLAND MISSION SHORT-TERM OPPORTUNITIES

Gap-Year ESL Teaching Internship

The Opportunity

Use your gap year to live among an unreached people group and serve alongside a strong team shining in the darkness. Gain training and experience for greater effectiveness in future ministry through an intentional mentoring program and curriculum. Previous ESL training or experience is not required.

This opportunity is developed as a gap year – October/November to May/June, where volunteers can expect the following:

Participate in one of the team's local ministries: Teaching "conversational English" to local adults or older students (high school or university).

Be a student – A selection of material will survey many of the issues our full-term teams study – culture, local religion, ministry practice and strategy. Beyond this, you will be an active student of local language.

Be mentored through curriculum and life on the Islands by long-term workers. This will have elements of one-on-one coaching and incorporation into a team.
